

23D YEAR--NO. 6,915.

BOYS will be boys. They will sit on fences, climb trees, slide on cellar doors and in various other ways manage to wear out their clothes.

In buying boys' clothing, one of the principal things to consider is the durability. WE make it a rule never to use any but the most durable and WEAR-RESISTING fabrics in the clothes we sell.

OUR School Suits for this season, in addition to being as durable as it is possible for clothing to be, are MARVELS of style and elegance. All the NEWEST and nobbiest patterns of the season are HERE ready for your inspection at prices that are as low as other dealers charge for inferior goods. Let US clothe your boys?

He Has Every Confidence That He Will Be Vindicated.

The Raun investigation is practically over for the present, but will be renewed at the next session of Congress.

Testimony will be taken relative to the charges preferred against Commissioner Raun.

Private Secretary Bradley Tanner said this morning in reference to the appointment of clerks from Captain Lemon's office.

Commissioner Raun was in a very good humor when seen at the Pension Office.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

THE TOO-PROLONGED SESSION WILL END TO-DAY.

PRESIDENT HARRISON AND CABINET

At the Capitol, Using Their Endeavors to Hasten Adjournment.

THE POOL-SELLING BILL IS VETOED.

There Should Be No Discrimination, Says Harrison--Wheat's Expulsion Recommended.

The President and members of the Cabinet reached the Capitol at 2 p. m. to-day, where bills passed at a late hour will be examined and acted upon by the Executive.

Before the reading of the Journal in the House this morning Mr. Breckinridge made the point of order of no quorum and the machine came to a sudden stop.

"What does it mean?" was the universal inquiry. One rumor said it meant the obstruction of the Tariff bill, that it should not be enrolled and signed by the Speaker and sent to the President, unless the Republicans had their own quorum here.

Napoleon McKinley declared with great emphasis that the Republicans would stay here till they got a quorum, even if it took a month.

There was much hurrying to and fro. Many busy conferences were held by Democrats and Republicans. Finally Mr. Breckinridge withdrew his point. Mr. Kilgore, even "Back," immediately renewed it. The mystery deepened. The excitement grew. What, oh, what was the meaning of it all?

Finally, when the suspense became simply awful, Charley Hayes went up to "Back" and appealed to him, in the name of the Senate Mountain Fishing Club, to let Congress go home, as the club had arranged to go fishing, not necessarily to catch fish but have sport.

This appeal, to what could Kilgore do but yield? Nothing. He yielded. The point was withdrawn. The Journal was read and adopted.

Major McKinley then called up the concurrent resolution authorizing the enrolling of clerks to make changes in the bill necessary to make it conform to the conference report. It is the same resolution which passed the Senate on Mr. Allison's motion yesterday. It was adopted.

Mr. Wallace of New York this morning introduced a bill providing for the refunding of duties paid on goods before October 6 remaining in bond after that date.

What the importers want is simply this: They have paid into the Treasury duties on bonded merchandise which could have paid a lower duty. They have given free entry after October 6, the date the tariff bill goes into effect. They paid the duty to escape the 10 per cent. specific penalty due on bonded merchandise after one year of storage.

In the Senate, after the Journal had been approved, Mr. Sherman offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of two Senators, John A. Logan and John Sherman, to inquire into the Pension Office after his vindication, of having intimidated witnesses, and of having clerks in the Pension Office who were formerly in the employ of Captain Lemon.

Mr. Blair said he wanted to call up the Labor bill and have action on it, and objected to any resolution that would interfere with its disposition.

Mr. Edmunds said the resolution would not interfere with the motion to take up the Labor bill, and Mr. Blair withdrew his objection.

The resolution was therefore adopted and Messrs. Sherman and Harris were appointed the committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. Manderson reported the bill to revise the pay of certain employees in the Government Printing Office, with an amendment providing for increase of pay for those engaged exclusively on night work, and it was placed on the calendar.

Speaker Reed signed the Tariff bill at 2:45 p. m.

At 2:55 p. m. the Tariff bill was presented to the Senate by the Clerk of the House, Mr. McPherson.

Two minutes later Vice-President Morton signed his signature to it. The signature was announced through Chief Clerk Johnson.

The announcement was followed by the recognition of Mr. Aldrich, who reported from the Committee on Finance the resolution providing for the adjournment of Congress amended so as to make the time of final adjournment 5 o'clock this evening.

The resolution was agreed to.

When the Tariff bill had received the Vice-President's signature, it was taken to the President's room, next to the Senate lobby, where the President and all of the members of his Cabinet except Secretary Blask were gathered together.

3:21 p. m.—The President has signed the bill.

The Senate has confirmed the nominations of General Henry V. Boynton, R. Ross Perry and Samuel F. Langley, all of the District of Columbia, to be Commissioners for the Rock Creek Park, District of Columbia.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Lieutenant Colonel Daniel W. Flanagan.

VOTING IN GEORGIA TO-DAY.

AN INTERESTING FIGHT BETWEEN GORDON AND THE ALLIANCE.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 1.—The State election in Georgia to-day is for Governor, State officers and members of the General Assembly. But one ticket is before the people for Governor and State officers. The Republicans, after full consultation, decided against the advisability of putting out a State ticket, and with the exception of four or five Legislative candidates will not be heard of. The election, however, is not devoid of sensational features. The Legislature to be chosen will have the election of a United States Senator to succeed Joseph E. Brown. For this vacancy Governor John B. Gordon is a candidate. At first it appeared as if he would have no opposition, but in a moment of personal ambition he gave offense to the Farmers' Alliance, and the result is a strong effort to defeat his Senatorial aspirations. The fight to-day, therefore, will be between Governor Gordon and the Alliance. If Governor Gordon wins it means the death of the Alliance in the State. If the Alliance wins it means a new element in national politics. The election of a United States Senator is to bring their principles before the people of the Union for settlement.

Before the election of State officers and members of the Legislature two amendments to the State constitution will be voted on. One of these amendments extends the benefits of the State pension to the widows of Confederate soldiers, and the other allows reading and reference of bills by title when introduced.

IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

TILMAN DENOUNCED AND A SEPARATE TICKET ADVOCATED.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 1.—Judge A. C. Haskell of this city, one of the most stalwart Democrats of South Carolina, whose name has recently been suggested by the Republicans as an independent candidate for Governor in opposition to Farmer Tillman, who was nominated by the Democratic State Convention on the 10th instant, has issued a manifesto which is the political sensation of the year in South Carolina.

Judge Haskell denounces in unmeasured terms an unequally false Tillman, charges him with corruption, abuse and vilification of the Democrats who have ruled the State since 1876, and contends that the State constitution which nominated Tillman was illegally constructed.

For these reasons Judge Haskell declares that he will not vote for Tillman, contends that no Democrat should vote for him, and that a ticket should be run against him. Concerning the proposed appeal to the negro vote to support such a ticket, Judge Haskell says:

No man more than myself deplores the exercise of such a policy by the colored race. Our government is dual in its object, but single in its representation. The white man is to govern, but the black race is to be protected.

I am unhesitatingly in opposition to the ticket to organize a minority, if we can do more, but to control the government, if possible. With this Democratic ticket in the field we should have the support of the rights of colored voters as we did in 1876, and wish that the race could be disfranchised if we could have a guarantee of their protection. But that is impossible. The right of the white people to protect their support is their real protection.

It is authoritatively stated that within the next few days the ticket will be formally placed in the field for Governor by his straight-out Democratic followers.

A convention of the colored people of the State has been called for the 15th of this month for the purpose of considering the political situation. That this convention will endorse Judge Haskell's nomination and pledge him the solid support of the negroes of the State is a foregone conclusion.

QUAY TO BE REBUKED.

DELAWARE'S CHANCES WAXING--STRAW'S VIEW OF THE WANE.

New York, Oct. 1.—A special to the Herald from Pittsburgh says that ex-Congressman S. B. Dick, one of the leading Republicans of Crawford County, was in Pittsburgh yesterday, and gave Candidate Delamater a terrible roasting. Mr. Dick said:

Delamater is utterly unscrupulous. A man who will act as he did toward a helpless cripple will do almost anything. John Morris, a Republican nominee for treasurer of Crawford County, was a brave Union soldier, who had been wounded in the war and permanently disabled. Delamater went to him and demanded a written agreement that Morris should deposit all the funds in his bank before he would support him. When Morris refused Delamater supported the Democratic ticket, which proved to be a disaster.

I told Department Commander Joseph Dutton of the Grand Army of the Republic to-day that I could not see how any old soldier could support Delamater after the way he used Morris. Everybody in Crawford County knows that Morris's charges are true. Unless they jump in and plaster the wretch, only 100 signed the protest.

An attempt was made a few days ago to get Delamater a certificate of citizenship to send to Philadelphia, and out of 1,000 Republicans visited by the police only 100 signed the protest. The old time Republicans and the
